

Longwood's Communication Sciences and Disorders Program invites you to the

3rd Annual FREE Agee Lecture on Lessons Learned in Supervision & Clinical Education

MAY 9, 2019 | 4:00 - 6:00 P.M. | THE VIRGINIA ROOM IN MAUGANS

Vicki McCready, MA, CCC-SLP

Louise Raleigh, MEd, CCC-SLP

Longwood's Communication Sciences and Disorders program is delighted to be bringing in these outstanding clinical educators and former directors of the UNCG Speech and Hearing Center to share their wisdom regarding effective supervision.

WHY ATTEND?

ASHA is now requiring all persons supervising students or mentoring clinical fellows to complete 2 hours of supervision training. This presentation will offer training with a focus on ten specific lessons. ASHA CEUs are anticipated.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

At the conclusion of this presentation, participants will be able to:

- Explain the rationale for being trained before supervising.
- Compare and contrast the characteristics of master clinician with master supervisor.
- Define the three aspects of feedback.

To Register, please contact:

Email peteronjs@longwood.edu

or

Call (434) 395-2996

Parking directions will be sent with confirmation of registration.

For more information, contact:

Dr. Lissa Power-de-Fur

Email powerdefurea@longwood.edu